REDLIGHT MEN
WILL DO LABOR
IN CHAIN GANG

For Fifty Days Marshal Watkins Will See That Some Honest Sweat Rolls from Their Pores.

J. O. Fishback, C. H. Erwin, Harry Pete and C. D. Beggins were convicted of being idle and dissolute characters, and sentence was fixed in each case by Judge High at fifty days at hard labor. The four men were arrested, accused of being culturers of the underworld, living upon the women of the redlight district. Specifically they were convicted of vagrancy.

As a result of the conviction of these men they will be placed at work this morning by Marshal Watkins at the hardest work that he can find for them to do. Presumably they will take places on the street gang, laboring under Superintendent Perry upon a pipe line on Upper Tombstone canyon. The city marshal is determined that he will carry out the orders of Judge High to the letter. In case any of them attempt to escape and a good watch will be kept to see that they do not, and balls and chains will be locked on their legs in order to keep them at work.

One other arrest was made yesterday in clearing the restricted district of these human leeches. This was A. C. Lacey, who gave the officers an alias of Charles Rose. Lacey was arrested several months since upon the charge of opium smuggling. This man, although "tagged" a number of times as an idle and dissolute character, has escaped punishment and enforcement of penalties prescribed by the courts under the plea of ill-health. Officers declare that he is perfectly healthy save for being a dope fiend, and should be convicted he will be placed at hard labor the same as his companions. Lacey entered a plea of not guilty, and furnished bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at ten o'clock this morning.

MINER IN SPARRING
MATCH WITH MULE

GILMAN ESCAPES WITH SLIGHT
BRUISES AS RESULT OF THE AFFAIR.

It is not often that a man will have a sparring contest with a mule and come out with nothing but a small gash on his face and a few slight bruises to show for it. This, however, is what happened to John Gilman, a miner employed at the Hoatson shaft of the S. & P. Company late Tuesday.

Gilman, who drives one of the mules, used in trimming ore from the further workings to the shaft for hoisting, was at his work as usual Tuesday, when his mule became frightened. At that particular moment he was between the mule and the wall of the drift and unable to get out of the way of the animal's flying feet, although he was able to keep the animal from running away.

With the heels of the mule flying around him, Gilman held on as best he could and in some miraculous manner escaped being seriously injured, although his body was grazed several times. The head of the mule struck him in the face as the animal tossed it to and fro in vain effort to get away, inflicting a rather nasty cut under the left eye, necessitating several stitches in dressing it.

STEAL RING FROM FINGER OF SLEEPER

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR AL-LEGED CRIME COMMITTED IN LOWELL SALOON.

Going to sleep in a saloon proved rather a dear experience to Jack Darlington, who was robbed of a gold ring as he sat dozing in a Lowell booze emporium late Wednesday night. James Edward Ray was arrested, accused of the crime, and later R. F. Elder, a pal of the alleged thief, was arrested for receiving stolen property, and the ring recovered.

Darlington, who had been drinking during the night, going to a table, sat down beside it and dozed off. Ray and his companion were noticed to get up shortly afterward and leave the saloon in such manner as to arouse suspicion, when Darlington, upon awakening, discovered his loss and reported it.

Ray was arrested and placed in the branch jail, a superficial search of his clothing failing to reveal the missing property. Later Elder visited the jail and talked to Ray through the bars for several moments. Ray was noticed to pass something to him through the bars, and Elder was followed to the rear of the White-house saloon, where he was seen to hide something. Search revealed the ring which had been stowed away by Elder, and he was shortly afterward placed under arrest upon the charge of receiving stolen goods. Although Elder admitted having received the ring from Ray he stated that he did not know it was stolen nor what he was in jail for.

The two will receive preliminary hearing this afternoon before Justice Murphy at Lowell.

BEVERIDGE SENDS CORDIAL GREETINGS

SENATOR SAYS HE HAS WORKED FOR THE BEST INTERESTS OF ARIZONA.

"With all my heart and soul I send greetings to the people of this great new state. I have labored for Arizona's people instead of those who sought to exploit them. I have tried to safeguard the people's real welfare, not only for the present but for the future. I cannot express how deeply I appreciate the sentiment the people of Arizona have expressed toward myself. May I not come down to Arizona in person next November in person to tell you what I feel?"

"Just this closing word: Arizona will be among the first on the roll 'all of the states, and I know that Arizona people will see to it that she will be among the first to stand for noble ideals. If you stand for them I know that you will fight for them. I like a good and clean fighter and I have never seen cleaner or better fighters than you have proved to be."

"I have tried to give you a better bill than ever has been proposed before. More obstacles were to be overcome than you know of, but it is all over now, and you have a law your children will bless."

"So, hurrah for Arizona! God be good to you, bless every one of you, men, women, and children."

ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE
The foregoing is a reply to the Phoenix Republican to a telegram sent Mr. Beveridge on Saturday night, conveying thanks for his efforts in behalf of Arizona and desiring an expression from him.

$100 FINE FOR
OBSTRUCTING
COUNTY ROADS

Severe Penalty Visited on a Rancher Near Courtland, and all Others will be Treated Same Way.

Obstructing a county road, which formerly was not a grave offence, has been raised to that category by County Superintendent of Roads Sam Elder and Judge Grier, justice of the peace at Courtland. A Finnish rancher who had erected a barrier across the Courtland-Douglas highway, was fined $100 for his offence Wednesday afternoon, according to Mr. Elder, who passed yesterday in this city.

"It is impossible for anyone to fence off a county road and either me or one of my force not to find out about it," said Mr. Elder. "Every public highway in the county has been surveyed and the plats are in my office. There can be no dispute as to which roads are public highways any longer and anyone fencing them off will be punished if a vigorous prosecution can bring it about."

Mr. Elder reached his home in Douglas after a day's inspection of the roads of Dos Cabezas, Pearce, Wilcox, Gleason and Courtland districts. He found all roads in a good condition, barring dust, which at times has made traveling rather a burden.

In speaking of general conditions aside from his business of road making, Mr. Elder stated that while the drought is becoming more prevalent with each day, the cattle are not dying in as large numbers as before the heavy rains of three weeks ago, the downpour having afforded them some relief.

While in Bisbee Mr. Elder was in consultation with County Engineer McNeish, and M. Doyle, supervisor of roads for this district.

HAD NO MONEY, BUT HE HAD A GUN

WHEN SEARCHED AT MAZE CAFE
ARTILLERY PROVES BROKEN
TOY PISTOL.

To paraphrase Robert Burns, "a gun is a gun for a' that, and a' that," as an unknown Mexican proved yesterday at the Maze cafe when he frightened the cashier greatly by declaring that he had a gun, which upon examination, proved to be of the toy variety and at that minus handle, hammer and trigger.

The man entered the restaurant and ordering a sixty cent meal, made the most of it, eating with the evident enjoyment of one to whom a good feed is a rarity. Completing his repast and walking leisurely to the cashier's desk, he leaned over and said in a confidential tone:

"I haven't any money, but I have a gun here—"

That was as far as he got before a call was sent in for an officer, which was answered by merchant's watchman Jay Wilmoth. Wilmoth on searching the fellow, found that he had a "gun" but it was of a variety not likely to give anyone but the person firing it uneasiness, even when in good order, while being without lock or stock, there was nothing but a tube left. So relieved was the cashier at learning that the danger was only imaginary that he refused to have the man arrested and he was allowed to walk from the cafe unmolested.

Newlands.

J. P. Orme, president of the Water Users' association, who is just back from Washington, D. C., made this statement to the Phoenix Democrat.

"Senator Bailey was determined to get Arizona into the union at this session of congress, and with the solid backing of the democrats extracted a promise that the republicans would vote for the statehood bill if the democrats would not oppose the administration railroad bill. Until Bailey got this promise there were no hopes for statehood."
